FOREWORD

"The Claypooles were a genteel and ancient family seated at Norborough, in the County of Northampton (England), upon the borders of Lincolnshire, possessing considerable estates in both these countries." (Memoirs of the Protectorate House of Cromwell by Mark Noble) Their lineage can be traced back through many kings, barons and others of noble ancestry. "The Claypoole family was eminent in England, the land of its origin. One of its sons (John) married a daughter of Oliver Cromwell. From its ancestral home . . .it furnished a group of distinguished soldiers, statesmen and patriots to its land." (The Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia 8/20/1852) Adam Cleypole, Esq. married Lady Dorothy Wingfield, daughter of Sir Robert Wingfield and his wife, Elizabeth Cecil, sister of Lord Burleigh, prime minister of England during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. Three of their grandsons, Edward, Norton, and James Claypole, sons of Sir John and Mary (Angell) Claypole, came to America during the 17th century. They played an important part in helping William Penn make his colony a success. Little do we appreciate the trials and tribulations of our first ancestors in America so that we might enjoy "the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

Edward Claypoole settled in Barbados, W.I., Norton settled in Delaware, and James in Philadelphia, Pa. Some of the writings of this James Claypoole have been preserved by the Pa. Historical Society and have recently been published in book form. Excerps from some of his letters tell of his great faith in God:

" . . .We have no cause to repent our coming hither, but to bless the Lord for his leading hand and counsell." " . . .Truly my desire is yt we may have an Eye to ye Lord in all our undertakings. . .so shall righteousness establish our Nation. . ." "Since we came from England as well as before, the Lord our God has been with us and blessed us and preserved us through many trials and dangers." " . . .So my friend, let us look to ye Lord and trust in Him."

Descendants of Norton and James Claypoole were pioneers in Maryland, Virginia, Western Pennsylvania, and Ohio. James Claypoole, Jr., a great-grandson of immigrant James, was the first white settler at Kittanning, Armstrong Co., Pa. James Claypool (born 1701), grandson of James or Norton Claypool, or both, settled in Old Virginia, now Hardy Co., W. Va. Their descendants are now scattered all over the United States. They intermarried with families of distinction and are related to some of the earliest and most eminent settlers of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Missouri, Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, etc. It is the purpose of this book to give you the names of some descendants of these immigrants. Volume I lists their ancestors in England and the descendants of John, Nathaniel, Priscilla, and Joseph Claypoole through the 9th generation. Volume II will give the descendants of James Claypool, born 1701, who settled in Virginia.

Marriage connections between the various branches of The Claypoole Family include the families of Campbells, Clark(e)s, Collins, Conwells, Coopers, Davidsons, Green(e)s, Johnsons, Jennings, Jones, Millers, Montgomerys, Morrisons, Reeds, Robertsons, Rogers, Smiths, Thompsons, Walkers, Whites, Wilsons, Wrights, Williams, etc.

So now let us "remember the days of old, (and) consider the years of many generations. . ." (Deuteronomy 32:7)

57. SIR ROBERT WINGFIELD, of Upton, married Margery, daughter of George Quarles of Norfolk.
58. SIR ROBERT WINGFIELD of Upton, married Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Cecil of Burleigh, Sheriff of Northamptonshire and custodian of Windsor Castle.
59. LADY DOROTHY WINGFIELD, buried at Norborough Nov. 7, 1619. Married Adam Cleypole, Esq. She was a niece of William Cecil, Lord Burleigh, and Prime Minister of England under Queen Elizabeth.
60. SIR JOHN CLAYPOLE was baptized 4/13/1595; died about 1664. Married Mary Angell, dau. of William Angell, Esq. of London. Three of their sons, Edward, Norton, and James, came to America. Another son, Lord General John Claypoole, married Elizabeth Cromwell, favorite daughter of Oliver Cromwell.

DESCENT FROM PIPIN, KING OF ITALY

PIPIN, King of Italy, was the son of Charlemagne (No. 34). He married Berthie, daughter of William, Count of Thoulouse. He died 810. He was one of the ancestors of William I, called the Conqueror. He became Duke of Normandy in spite of all opposition, and by virtue of the gift of Edward the Confessor, he claimed the throne of England and took possession of it by conquest, when he defeated King Harold at Hastings, 10/14/1066. He died 9/19/1087. He married Matilda or Maud (No. 44), daughter of Baldwin V.

THE SAXON KINGS OF ENGLAND--LINEAGE TO ALFRED THE GREAT

WODEN, King of the Saxons, A. D. 256, was their deified Mars, Frea, or Fria. His queen was adored by hem as the Goddess Venus. He died A. D. 300. They were ancestors of ALFRED THE GREAT. He went to Rome and was crowned by Pope Adrian 872. The Danes under Rollo reduced his kingdom to Somerset, Hampton and Wiltshire. He absconded to the Isle of Anglesey in disguise. Then he set upon the Danish camp and routed them. He forced their King, Guthram or Godrum, to be baptized and called Athelstane. He expelled the Danes from his kingdom 879. He died 10/28/900 or 901. He has been called "the first civilizer of the English, who in their time were so ignorant, that there was scarcely a priest that understood Latin or a layman that could read English." He made many wholesome laws and divided his kingdom into Shires, Hundreds and Tythes. He married 868, Ethelbith or Elswith, daughter of Ethelred Muchel. One of his descendants was Princess Margaret, wife of Malcolm III, Canmore, King of Scotland. She died 1093 and is called St. Margaret by the Scots. She was the sole heiress of the crown of England, and from her descended the succeeding kings of Scotland, who in consequence had the hereditary right to the Crown of England, though this was defeated by the Norman conquest of William, the Conqueror. She was also the ancestor of Lady Dorthy Wingfield (No. 59 above) who married ADAM CLEYPOLE.

DESCENT FROM THE MAGNA CHARTA BARONS

They were fierce, bearded mail-clad men who met on the flat field of Runnymede and later stood on the marshy island around their king in June 1215, and half by force, extracted from him that guarantee of every Englishman's rights.

Edmund Burke says, "Magna Charta, if it did not give us originally the House of Commons, gave us at least a House of Commons of weight and consequence." Lord Chatham said, "Magna Charta, the Petition of Rights, and the Bill of Rights form that code, which I call the Bible of the English Constitution."

1. HENRY de BOHUM was a Magna Charta Surety. Created in 1199, Earl of Hereford, Lord high constable of England, Earl of Sussex, died 1220. Married Lady Maud, daughter of Geoffrey Fitz-Piers, Earl of Essex, lord high justice of England, and had a son:
2. Humphrey de Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Essex, died 1274, married first Lady Maud, daughter of Henry, Baron de Eve, and had a son:
3. Humphrey de Bohun, governor of Goodrich and Windsor Castles, eldest son d.v.p. who married Lady Eleanor, daughter of William deBraose of Brecknock, and had a son:
4. Humphrey de Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Essex, lord high constable, died 1297, married Maud de Fines and had a son:
5. Humphrey de Bohun, Earl of Hereford and Essex, lord high constable, K. 1321. Married 11/14/1302, Princess Elizabeth, widow of Sir John, Earl of Holland, and daughter of Edward I, King of England, and his first wife Princess Eleanor of Castile, and had a son:
6. William de Bohun, K.G. fifth son, created in 1337 Earl of Northampton, died 1360. Married Lady Elizabeth, daughter of Bartholomen-de Badlesmere, who was executed in 1322, and widow of Edmund de Mortimer and had a daughter:
7. Lady Elizabeth de Bohun, who married Richard Fitz-Alan, K. G., tenth Earl of Arundel, beheaded in 1398. (See No. 7 in descent from Robert de Vere)

1. SAHER (or SAIRE) de QUINCY, Earl of Winchester, died 1219. Was a Magna Charta Surety. His only daughter:
2. HAWYSE (or HAWSIE) de Quincy, married (2) Hugh de Vere, Earl of Oxford, and son of:

1. ROBERT de VERE, also a Magna Charta Surety, and Earl of Oxford, died 1221.
2. Hugh de Vere, and his wife, Hawsie de Quincy (both mentioned above) had a son:
3. Robert de Vere, fifth Earl of Oxford, died 1296, who had a daughter:
4. Joan de Vere, married William de Warren, d.v.p. 1286, and had a daughter:

THE CLAYPOOLE FAMILY IN ENGLAND

"The CLAYPOOLES were a genteel and ancient family seated at Norborough, in the County of Northampton, upon the borders of Lincolnshire, possessing considerable estates in both these counties." The name is variously spelled Cleypole, Claypole, Claypoole, Claypool, etc. The Manor of Claypole is listed in the Domesday Book of 1086. Between 1256 and 1375 we find Jordan de Claypol and Cecily, his wife; Alexander de Claypol; Wm de Claypol; Geoffrey de Cleopel, Henry III, Edw. I; Willelmi Carlton de Claypoll, Alicia Carlton de Claypool, Roberto Carlton de Claypool; and John de Claipole, Juror, in Linconshire County records. William Claypoole was Vicar of Wyken, in Norfolk County in 1388. Robert Claypoole de Edelsburg. . .for the deanery of Brackley, Nov. 1387. John Cleypole, Clerk of the Church of St. Mary 1414; deanery of Preston 11/1431. John Claypoole in the deanery of Hadden, 1434. John Claypole, draper, alderman (or mayor) of Stamford, 1495-96; sub-steward of the manor of Stamford, for steward, John Hussey, esq. 9/17/1501. Richard Claypoole, constable for parish of St. Andrew, Sept. 1512. Probable father of John Cleypole of Kings Cliff.

1. JOHN CLEYPOL, Kings Cliff, Northamptonshire. Married - - - Metcalfe, dau. of Thomas Metcalfe. Children: James, Henry, Robert, and a son who married Elizabeth Harrington.
2. JAMES CLEYPOL, ESQ., of Norborough married Joan Henson before 1560. In 1571 he purchased Walham Parks for 440 pounds. In 1572 he bought the Manor of Norborough which he had occupied for some time. He had a grant of arms dated 6/17/1583. He contributed 50L towards the defense of the country against the Spanish invasion. In the later part of his life he was appointed receiver of taxes of a great part of the county of Northampton and was complimented with the title of Esq. His wife was buried at Norborough 11/14/1598 and he was buried 10/16/1599 in the Church of St. Andrew. "To his memory is erected a very magnificent monument in the chancel of that church; this coat of arms appears thrice upon it. I apprehend that he himself caused it to be set up; my reasons are, because it has no other inscription than, 'All good blessings unto man cometh of the free gift of God.' The sentence seems to allude to his gratitude to Providence for his singular good fortune."--Mark Noble.
Children: Sir John; Adam; Ann; Dorothy; Bonye; Hella.
3. ADAM CLEYPOL, ESQ. was baptized at Norborough 6/20/1565; died in 1634. He married (1) 9/30/1586, Lady Dorothy Wingfield, dau. of Sir Robert and Elizabeth (Cecil) Wingfield. "It is through the Wingfields that the Claypooles annex the long line of noble names." His wife, Dorothy, was buried at Norborough 11/7/1619. Most of the Claypooles in England and America are descendants of Adam Claypoole and his 1st wife, Dorothy. He married (2) 9/25/1620, Jane Bird. He contributed 10L to the royal loan to James I (1611-12) and 30L to the Royal loan Charles I (1625-26). He was also heir to his brother, Sir John Cleypole, as he died without issue and left his estates to his brother.

THE CLAYPOOLE FAMILY IN ENGLAND

4. SIR JOHN CLAYPOLE, Knight of Latham, was baptized 4/13/1595; died about 1664. Married Mary (Marie) Angell, dau. of Wm. Angell, Esq. of London. The lady's fortune was 1500L. It appears that he was the favored son, as the father in 1622, upon his marriage with Mary, conveyed to him in fee, with power to settle upon his wife, the manor and lands of Norborough, and thirty-two acres, part of Waldram Parks; the whole of which was worth about 200L per annum. Her brother John is mentioned in the settlements. The sentiments which he entertained respecting the then state of the nation, were probably the same as those which Mr. Oliver Cromwell (afterwards Protector) possessed, when he first gained a seat in the long parliament; and as he had suffered hardships from King Charles I's despotism; it is not unlikely that he and Oliver might be students of the law together, which might also promote an alliance between the families. . . In 1643, 1644, and 1647, he was appointed one of the assessors for the county of Northampton. He was justice of the peace, and probably sheriff for his own county in 1655. . . He was a member of parliament in 1654, for the county of Northampton, and for Carmarthenshire in 1656. In the following year he was commissioner with his son, for levying the taxes upon the county of Northampton. The Protector appointed him Clerk of the Hanaper in the court of Chancery, created him a knight, and soon afterwards gave him a patent for a baronet, dated 7/16/1657; and 3/13/1659-60, he had a new grant, jointly with Dr. Tho. Clarges, M. D. of the place of clerk of the Hanaper during their lives, and the survivor of them. He survived his wife, who died 4/10/1661, and was buried the following day at Norborough; his name appears in the court rolls of that place until the year 1664; three or four years before which he had granted the manor of Norborough to his eldest son, John.--The Protectorial House of Cromwell by Mark Noble.

Note: Sir John Claypoole and Mary Angell were married on 6/8/1622 at St. Thomas Church in London, England.

THE FIRST CLAYPOOLES IN AMERICA

Three brothers, Edward, James, and Norton Claypoole, sons of Sir John and Mary (Angell) Claypoole came to America from England in the 17th Century. Most of the Claypoles living in the U. S. today are descendants of Nathaniel & Joseph, sons of James; and James Claypool, born 1701, of Virginia, son of James, grandson of either James or Norton or both. Their descendants are listed separately.

EDWARD CLAYPOOLE (Sir John) was born about 1633; "departed this life the 17th November 1692 and in the fifty-ninth year of his age." (Monumental Inscription St. George's Church, Barbados, W. I.) Married 5/11/1676, Mrs. Abigail Mascoll, widow of Timothy Mascoll, at the parish church of St. Philip, Barbados, W. I. (Her children to Mascoll were: Judith m. Lewis; Elizabeth m. James Aynsworth, Esq.; Arbecca m. Alexander Butcher; Mary m. Alexander; and Peter.) Edward Claypole was mentioned in the first tax list of Philadelphia, Pa., but was living in the West Indies at the time of the 1679 Census: Parish of St. George, p. 57, "Edward Claypole is stated to have been the owner of 325 acres, 12 white servants, 186 negroes; Parish of St. John, p. 189, "Capt. Edward Claypole was stated to have been the owner of 140 acres and 95 negroes." P. 404 "Capt. Claypoole supplied 2 horses to Capt. Robinson's Troop; p. 414 "Capt. Claypole supplied 2 men and horses to Capt. Leslie's Troop." He owned a sugar plantation and carried on extensive business with his brother, James, in Philadelphia, Pa. Research on this family was compiled for Mrs. Sarah Margaret Claypool Willoughby of Arlington, Texas by Mr. H. G. Hutchinson, Christ Church, Barbados, West Indies.

WILL OF EDWARD CLAYPOOLE of St. George. Signed October 6, 1689;

Entered February 21, 1692

"Edward Claypoole of the parish of St. George, Barbados, Gent., describes himself in his last will as being 'aged and infirmed in body', but of perfect mind, memory and understanding. He revoked all former wills. Wife: Abigail Claypole, his personal and real estate of whatsoever nature during her natural life. He requested his 'dearly beloved wife' to take an interest and special care in the maintenance of his two daughters, Mary and Frances Claypoole, out of the profits of his estate as she in her discretion should think fit during her life. Two daughters: Mary and Frances, all of his estate real and personal to be divided equally between them and their heirs. In case either daughter should depart this life before the age of 18 or her wedding day then the surviving daughter was to have his entire estate, real and personal. But in the case of the deaths of both daughters before 18 or day of marriage his whole estate, real and personal, was to go to his wife, her heirs and assigns. Meanwhile he appointed his wife guardian of his two daughters, Mary and Frances, during their minorities until they be 21 years of age or be married before then. Sole Executrix: His beloved wife.
Sgd. EDWARD CLAYPOOLE

Witnesses: George Peers, Peter Mascall, Edward Cole. The will was proved before His Excellency The Governor on December 16, 1692.

WILL OF ABIGAIL CLAYPOOL, Widow of St. Philip. Signed 3/17/1718; Entered 3/37/1728

"Abigail Claypool, a widow of the parish of St. Philip, being aged and infirm of body, but yet of a sound and perfect mind, made her last will in which she revoked all others. She directed that her debts and funeral expenses should be paid and satisfied. GRANDSON: WILLIAM GREEN, all of her estate real and personal. Until he be 21 years the profits of his estate were to be put out at interest for his use and the interest and profits were to be handed over to him when 21. Should he depart this life before that time without lawful issue, then her property was to be divided equally between her four daughters: Mrs. Elizabeth Aynsworth, Mrs. Mary Alexander, Mrs. Judith Lewis and Mrs. Alexander Butcher. . . THE FIRST CLAYPOOLES IN AMERICA

JAMES CLAYPOOLE (Sir John) was born 10/8/1634 in England; died 8/6/1687 in Philadelphia, Pa. Married 12/12/1657 in Bremen, Germany by Conradus Selius, a Calvin minister, Helena Mercer, dau. of Balthasar Mercer, former parliamentary assessor at Edinburg, Scotland, and Elizabeth Kennedy, of noble lineage. (American Genealogist, April 1942, pp. 201-206) She died 8/19/1688 in Philadelphia, Pa. Both buried in the Friends' Burying-ground, Mulberry Street. Their children were all born in London where he was a merchant. "When Penn received his royal grant for Pennsylvania, he immediately became one of its biggest backers and became treasurer of the Free Society of Traders. . . Claypoole expressed his approval of the new land in writing in 1681: 'I and many others wiser than I doe very much approve of Pensilvania and doe judge William Penn as fitt a man as is any in Europe to plant a colony.'" (The Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia, 8/20/1952) Writing to his brother, Edward, he tells of purchasing 5000 acres from William Penn. . . "in the mean time, I propose to send over my attorney, with some servants, to build, plant, & to provide cattle and all other necessities, that is ever I come there, my land may be still improving and not wholly lie waste. . ." Writing to brother, Norton, he says: "I have 100 acres where our Capitall Citty is to be upon ye River near Schoolkill & Peter Cooks, there I intend to plant and build my first house." (Pa. Magazine, Vol. X, p. 196) "If it be but a sleight house like a barne with one floor of two Chambers: and will hold us and our goods and keep us from ye sun & weathr it may suffice. . ." "We are in treaty for a good vessel to carry us" (John T. Faris, "The Romance of Old Philadelphia," p. 43) "They set sail westward on the 24th of July, 1683. . . to abandon forever the old homes and old friends. . . and commence new lives with the wolf and the savage in the forest upon the shores of the Delaware." (Samuel W. Pennypaker, "The Settlement of Germantown," p. 6) They arrived in Philadelphia on the 6th of October, 1683 on the Concord. "In a letter to his brother, Edward, then in Barbadoes, he told of his beginning in the new land. 'We came to this city where we found my servant had builded me a house like a barn without a chimney. The house was 40 foot long and 20 broad, with a good dry cellar under it which proved an extraordinary convenience for storing goods.'" (The Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia, 8/20/1952) The next spring he built the first brick house in Philadelphia. "It was a double two-story brick house, had four leaden-framed windows in front, and the same in the rear. . . with a beautiful south exposure, down a descending green into the pleasant Dock Creek." (Watson's Annals of Philadelphia, Vol. I, p. 558) He is mentioned frequently in Colonial Records: "settled a colony at Germantown, Pa.; judge Provincial Court; member of the Governor's Council, and of the Assembly." (The Compendium of American Genealogy, First Families of America, Vol. 7)

DESCENDANTS OF JAMES CLAYPOOLE, JR.

1. ELIZABETH CLAYPOOLE (James-James) was born about 1697 in Delaware; died 9/26/1767 abt. 70 yrs. of age. She is mentioned in the will of her aunt, Mary (Claypoole) Cook, who died in 1726: "Elizabeth, dau. of brother, James." Baptized by Rev. George Keith "4/11/1702, three children of James Claypoole" (1702 The Anglican Church in Delaware).

2. JAMES CLAYPOOLE (James-James) was born 2/14/1701; died 10/9/1789 in Virginia. Married Jané . Mentioned in the will of his uncle, George Claypoole who died in 1731: "nephew James Claypoole of Sussex, Delaware." Some claim that this James Claypoole, who settled in Virginia, was the grandson of Norton Claypoole, so descendants will be listed separately under James Claypoole, born 1701, of Virginia. Some families are descendants of both James & Norton. The following list him as the grandson of James:

"JAMES, second son of the immigrant James, resided at New Castle, Del. . . . he had at least two children: Elizabeth and JAMES, who settled in Rockingham Co., Virginia in the eighteenth century and later removed to Hardy Co., Va. By his wife Jane, he had at least six sons: James, John, Jesse, Joseph, William, and George. . ." (Media Research Bureau, Washington, D. C.)

Rebecca Graff, "The Claypoole Family of Philadelphia." (1893)

Atty. William C. Hudson, past-president of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research, Royal Oak, Mich. in a letter to Mrs. Glen Martin, Gilbert, Arizona, dated 11/21/1950: ". . . Your and my definite line of descent from the Claypools starts with James Claypool of Lost River Valley in Hardy Co., W. Va., who was born at Newcastle, near Philadelphia February 14, 1701. . . . He was probably the son of James Claypool, a clerk of Court at Newcastle, who was the second son of James Claypool the Philadelphia emigrant. . . . This was the conclusion of Mrs. Weaver, author of the "Howard Lineage", and is supported by the available evidence. The name of the wife of James Claypool of Hardy County, was Jane . . . They moved to the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia about 1745, and settled on Cedar Branch of Linville Creek in what is now Rockingham Co. His oldest son William, was killed by the Indians in 1755 leaving the widow and an orphan daughter, Jane McKee. About that time James and his other sons moved into the valley of Lost River where they all obtained lands. James died 10/7/1789 and is buried in what is now known as Miller Cemetery on Route 58 south of Lost City, West Virginia. . . . There was considerable intermarriage between the Claypools and the Millers. . . ." "According to the Will of James Claypool, as recorded in the records of Hardy Co., he had nine children: William, James, Jr., John, Joseph, George, Jesse, Mary Smith, Betty Osborn, Sarah Viney. . . ."

Atty. John W. Claypool (1858-1924) Indianapolis, Indiana in a letter written to N. O. Claypool, Kittanning, Pa. about 1901 gives his ancestry as follows: John W. Claypool (Solomon 1829-1898; Wilson 1798-1876; Abraham 1762-1845; James 1730-1811; James 1701-1789 Settled in Old Va.; James, the Pilot 1681- ; James, Jr.; James Claypoole, Brother of Lord John. Note: He lists an extra generation: "James, the Pilot."

"Joseph Claypoole resided in Philadelphia when he bought town lots and was a large property owner. It was said that he was the richest of all the Claypoole. He was High Sheriff of Philadelphia County . . . was concerned in the promoting and assisting in the building of Christ Church . . . and contributed much towards it. He was the first warden of Christ Church. There was no congregation of the Church of England within the limits of Pennsylvania until 1695. As soon as the petition for a parish (Christ Church) was presented, the Quaker Magistrates arrested the attorney who drew it up and several of the principal signers. The Quakers called the first rector of the Church, The Rev. Thomas Clayton, 'the minister of the doctrine of devils.'" (Rebecca Graff, "The Claypoole Family" pp. 51, 54, 57, 62; Arthur Hurst, Chicago, Ill.) Christ Church lists him as a Vestryman from 1718 to 1721. He is mentioned in the wills of his father, sister Mary, and brother George.

DESCENDANTS OF JOSEPH CLAYPOOLE

10. JAMES CLAYPOOLE (Joseph-James) was born 1/22/1720 in Philadelphia, Pa.; baptized in Christ Church there, 2/5/1721; died about 1796 in Jamaica. He was on a trip back to England to join an artist friend when he was shipwrecked and supposedly spent his remaining days in Jamaica. Married (1) 5/24/1742 in Christ Church, Philadelphia, Rebecca White who died 7/19/1747, dau. of Joseph & Mary () White of Burlington, N. J.; (2) 9/ /1750, Mary Chambers. Gov. James Hamilton issued the marriage license (Pa. Mag. History & Biography, Vol. 32, p. 38). He was an artist. "In 1743 James Claypoole opened an art shop for the sales of artists' supplies, and became one of Pennsylvania's first truly native artists. His shop and that of Christopher Marshall were visited by every major artist of the Middle Colonies." (Pa. the Keystone State by Sylvester K. Stevens, p. 175) Tradition says that he studied in Paris. "He specialized in portrait painting. He was an instructor of Matthew Pratt (1734-1805) who was his nephew and a noted artist." He "was prominently identified with the affairs of Philadelphia, during the period of the Revolution. On 4/9/1777, he petitioned the Council to be appointed Sheriff of Philadelphia county. . . and was duly commissioned; he was elected to succeed himself and recommissioned 10/14/1777, and re-elected 10/17/1778, and again in 1779." (Colonial Families of Philadelphia, Vol. 2, p. 1448) "Children listed to second wife Mary Chambers list the baptisms of 5 children from 1751-1759: Elizabeth, Mary, Abraham G., David C., and Temperance. . . Peale does make it clear that that there were two James Claypooles, father and son. . . and adds "This must have been a son by the first marriage not recorded in Philadelphia baptismal records." . . . Peale was in a position to know this family well as his adopted daughter, Elizabeth, married Septimus Claypoole." (Pa. History, Vol. 17, pp. 106-107) Two sons of first wife, Rebecca White, are mentioned in the wills of her father, mother, and brother, Joseph White, Jr. (N. J. Colonial Documents, 1st Series, Vol. 32, p. 356) Three additional daughters are listed as children of second wife: Helen, Rebecca, and Hetty (Hester). (Colonial Families of Philadelphia: Vol. 2, p. 1448) Septimus is also listed as a brother of David Chambers Claypoole in the article DUNLAP & CLAYPOOL: PRINTERS AND NEWS-MERCHANTS OF THE REVOLUTION (Journal Quarterly, Vol. 11, p. 176). James Claypoole petitioned the heirs of William Penn for land his grandfather had not received. In 1784 and 1785, 2400 acres of land in Bedford, Co., Pa. were surveyed to his children: James, Jr., Mary, David, Temperance, Hester, and Septimus. (Pa. Archives, 3rd Series: Vol. 25, pp. 478, 479)

DESCENDANTS OF JOSEPH CLAYPOOLE
THE CLAYPOOLE BLOCK HOUSE, ARMSTRONG CO., PA.

"Kittanning as you all probably know, was founded by the Indians and became a frontier town. The defeat of the Indians here in 1756 by General Armstrong opened up the country to the west to those people who were seeking land and homes in the wilds of this country. . .The first white man and his family to move to Kittanning and build himself a log cabin was James Claypoole. . ." (Published in the Daily Leader Times, Kittanning, Pa. from a talk given by Postmaster Perry King to members of the Kiwanis Club, 1957) "In a letter to General Arthur St. Clair, the trusted representative of the Penns, dated Philadelphia, August 6, 1774, Governor John Penn approves of laying out a town in the proprietary manor of Kittanning to accommodate traders and others, but refused to concur in the construction of a stockade unless the Assembly agreed. Consequently it was not till 1779 that Fort Armstrong was built. It was erected by Lt. Col. Bayard about two miles south of Kittanning on what afterwards became the Shoop property. . ." (Community Annals of Ford City, Pa. by Mrs. Olive L. Hammond, 1926, 1927) "Another point of interest in the Manor of Kittanning was Claypoole's block-house, which stood about half a mile below Fort Armstrong, and about one hundred yards back from the bank of the river (Allegheny), with Bloody Run--now known as Bailey's Run--falling into the river midway between them. It was built by James Claypoole, as nearly as can be ascertained, between the years 1788 and 1793; and was, like most block-houses, a place of refuge for the settlers, and especially for their families, from the attacks of the Indians. The Claypooles came over with William Penn, and a large number of them are still found on the west side of the river. . .Many are the stories that were related half a century ago regarding the adventures of the early settlers with the savages. One incident, related in bygone days by George Cook, then a man of more than eighty years of age, must suffice. He was one of the scouting party who were accustomed to scour the country in search of prowling savages, and on this occasion the Indians were more than a match for them. They caught a duck by some means, and making a cord of bark tied one end of it to one of the duck's feet and the other end to a shrub on the bank of the run within three hundred yards of the block-house, and then concealed themselves awaiting some person to come to catch the duck. Soon after three of the scouting party, returning from a range through the country, came, and seeing the duck, went down to capture it, when all three were fired upon by the Indians, killed and scalped; hence the name Bloody Run. The Indians were pursued, but could not be overtaken, and escaped. The older inhabitants of the neighborhood, my father among them, remembered the block-house. . .It was about fifteen feet square, with the upper story, as was usual with such buildings, extending a little over the lower one to enable the inmates to fire on an enemy that might venture too near with a view of setting the place on fire. It was torn down, or fell down from age, about the year 1835. . ." ("Manor of Kittanning" Past and Present by Rev. A. A. Lambing, LL. D, Pres. of the Historical Society of W. Pa.) "Less than half a mile from the old site of the block house. . .was the old limestone-walled well. . . After Indian hostilities abated, George Claypoole built a log-house between the blockhouse and the hill. . ." (Hammond, "Community Annals of Ford City," p. 25) The blockhouse was "built to withstand post-Revolutionary Indian attacks." (Annals of Southwestern Pa., Vol. 2, p. 204) It is also mentioned in the "Report of the Commission to Locate the Site of the Frontier Forts of Pa., Vol. 2, pp. 617-618 and in "A Historical Study of Penn's Manor Forty," pp. 29, 32. "Its ruins were a place where the children of half a century ago, and I among them, used to go in search of musket balls, arrow-heads and other relics, which were highly prized by the juvenile mind of that day; and the more so as they had persons by them who could give a vivid --sometimes, alas, too vivid--a description of what those things meant." (Lambing, "Manor of Kittanning")

40. JAMES CLAYPOOLE, JR. (James-Joseph-James) was born about 1743 "near Philadelphia, Pa." (Beers, "Armstrong Co., Pa., Her People Past & Present," Vol. 2, p. 915) died in Armstrong Co., Pa. before 11/13/1816 (date of Administration Acct. No. 48), buried at Slate Lick, Pa. Married 3/3/1763 at Christ Church, Philadelphia, Pa., Lucia (Lucretia) Garwood, born 6/22/1742; died 1796 at the Claypole Block House below Kittanning, Pa., dau. of Samuel & Rebecca () Garwood of Burlington, N. J. (N. J. Colonial Documents, 1st Series, Vol. 34, p. 200). "At a very early day James Claypole endeavored to establish a home in Armstrong Co. but was driven away by the Indians. His son George was born there in 1766" (Armstrong Co., Pa., Her People Past & Present, p. 915). In 1773 he is taxed in Turkey Foot Township, Bedford Co., Pa. and was one of the first settlers in Brothers Valley but is missing from the tax rolls there until 1783 when he is taxed in Milford Twp., then Bedford Co. (now Somerset Co., Pa.) (Pa. Archives, 2nd Series, Vol. 22, pp. 12, 119, 238) He is again listed in the 1784 Census of Milford Twp: "Return of lands, 9 whites." Listed as James, Jr. on survey there dated 3/21/1785, called Claypole's New Place, 322½ acres. "Situate one mile south of Castleman's River between said river and Negro Mountains . . ." Warrant Jan. 27, 1785 (No. 3719, Vol. 1, p. 180). "James Claypole's improvement, as township lines now run, is in Summit Twp. and seems to have been well up on the Negro mountain. . . We think it is the same place that Solly Ramsperger, a quaint character, owned in later days. We know that Claypole went to Armstrong Co. but he must have left some descendants here." (Hon. Wm. H. Koontz, "History of Bedford and Somerset Counties, Pa.," Vol. 2, p. 71) A Letter of Attorney is on record in Somerset Co. from "James Claypole of Armstrong Co. . . to sue for a certain obligation. . . on a certain Elias Ramsberger of Bedford County (supposed now to be Somerset Co.) bearing the date the 25th day of March A. D. 1789. . . dated 11/12/1807." He fought in the Revolution according to the journal of his great-grandson, Nelson Olin Claypool. His son, David Chambers Claypole, II, was born in New Jersey in 1779 (1850 Census, Armstrong Co., Pa.). "Private James Claypole, Philadelphia City, served under 1st Lieut. George Ross." (Pa. Archives, 6th Series, Vol. 3, p. 1094) "Served his tour: James Claypole, City of Philadelphia, A General Return of the 5th Class, 2/6/1781, Philadelphia Militia." (Vol. 1, p. 437, Pa. Archives, 6th Series.) "In the spring or summer of 1791, James Claypole, with his wife and six children, settled near the mouth of Truby's Run. He built a log cabin at what is now the northwest corner of Arch and Water Sts. (Kittanning, Pa.) but was chased away by Indians." (Robert W. Smith, "History of Armstrong Co., Pa.," pp. 108, 486) "Claypole returned in about a year to the location of his former daring adventure and settled on land he purchased on the river (Allegheny) bank, just south of Fort Run, two miles south of Kittanning, where he built a block house. Warrants for land within the limits of the present Manor Township were made to James Claypole in 1791. Mahoning in 1785; Burrell, 1778; Valley, 1785. . . South Bend, 1773; Freeport 1786. In 1798 he purchased 400 acres from Stone in North Buffalo Township, where the Baptist Church now stands. He was the progenitor of the Claypoles and the first Baptist to settle in the County." (Addison B. Bowser, "Bowser Family History," P. 36) On 4/16/1805, he bought 223 acres of a tract called "Oakland" from George and Alice Brown in his name and that of his son, George. By verbal agreement he gave 30 acres of this tract to his son, James. The other heirs deeded this property to their brother, James, in 1820.

46. DAVID CHAMBERS CLAYPOOLE (James-Joseph-James) was born 6/14/1757, baptized in Christ Church, Philadelphia, 7/28/1757; died there 3/9/1849. Married (1) 4/5/1781 in Christ Church, Philadelphia, Mary Budd, born 10/18/1763; died 5/24/1788, dau. of Levi & Elizabeth (Shields) Budd; (2) 10/8/1791 in St. Paul's Church, Philadelphia, Margaret Britton, dau. of Thomas & Catherine (Croston) Britton; (3) Sarah , born 1789; died 4/20/1846, buried in Rockhill Vault, St. Stephens Church, Philadelphia, with her husband. "He had thirteen children, all of whom he survived. . ." (Jordan, John W. Colonial Families of Philadelphia, Vol. 2, p. 1448) However, a daughter, Mary, is mentioned in his will. He was a partner of John Dunlap in the printing firm of Dunlap & Claypoole, Philadelphia, Pa. Their greatest piece of work was the printing of the Declaration of Independence. A memorial tablet marks the place where the printing-shop stood, with the inscription: "ON THIS SITE were first printed THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE July 5, 1776 - THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES Sept. 19, 1787 - WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS September 19, 1796 - AND THE FIRST DAILY NEWSPAPER IN AMERICA. September 21, 1784 - IN THE PRINT SHOP OF DUNLAP AND CLAYPOOLE Soldiers of the Revolution." He tells his own story of the Revolution: "The Battle of Lexington and Concord, in Massachusetts, on the 19th of April 1775, was the Signal for the American People to arise, and repel by force of Arms, those unjust claims of the English Government. . .An elder Brother and myself. . . were amongst the first to enrol ourselves as Privates in Captain (afterwards General) Mifflin's Company of Infantry. . . When the British showed an intention of taking the City of Philadelphia, a bastion of the City Militia was ordered down to garrison the Fort which had been erected at Billingsport on the Jersey Shore. I was attached to that Battalion, and we marched from Philadelphia on the 19th September 1777, just one week before the English took possession of it--The adjutant of the battalion having deserted, Col. Will appointed me in his place. . . Soon after the English took the City, they sent a strong detachment into Jersey, for the purpose of attacking Billingsport. . .and as we were but about 300 strong. . .it was thought most prudent to evacuate the Fort. . .We retreated to Fort Mifflin. . .proceeded through Jersey, to the Head Quarters of the Army commanded by General Washington, and remained with it until near the close of the Campaign, when we were discharged, and I retired to Lancaster, where I assisted in the publication of a News Paper, which, I flatter myself contributed essentially to the forwarding of the great and good cause we were all so heartily engaged in." (Graff, Rebecca The Claypoole Family of Philadelphia, pp. 83-86) In 1783, John Dunlap sold out to Claypoole, (Watson's Annals of Philadelphia, Vol. 2, p. 397) another account gives the date as 1793. @David C. Claypool was the publisher of the first daily newspaper on this continent; it might also be remembered that Claypoole was selected by Washington to print for the world his historic so-called Farewell Address and was given the original manuscript of that great document, when he told the First President he would like to keep it. . ." (Pub. of the Gen. Soc. of Pa., Vol. 14, p. 228) The administrator of his estate sold the original of Washington's Farewell Address for $2300 to Dr. Henry Boardman, pastor of the 12th Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia. It was announced that he purchased it for a gentleman living at a distance (Mr. Lennox of New York). (THE VIRGINIA HISTORICAL REGISTER, p. 114) He served as a Private in the Cavalry on the Western Expedition of 1794, and in 1799 on the Northern Expedition,--for putting down the Insurrections in those Parts of Pennsylvania. (Graff, p. 86) He and his brother, James, Jr., each purchased 400 acres of land in Bedford Co., Pa., Survey dated 9/6/1784 (Pa. Archives, 3rd Series, Vol. 25, p. 478). On 10/20/1804, David C. Claypoole, Printer and James Kitchen, Innkeeper, both of Philadelphia, purchased 327 acres of land in Wheatfield Twp., Westmoreland Co. (now Indiana Co., Pa., Vol. 1, p. 27). He mentions daughter, Mary, niece, Elizabeth Allen, nieces, Margaret & Maria Peale, and nephew, Thomas Rockhill in his will, dated Nov. 6, 1846.

In his journal their grandson Nelson Olin Claypool (1870-1952) wrote: "James H. Claypoole, my grandfather, fell heir to the vast estate of his father and passed his entire life on the farm on which he was born. He donated land for and furnished lumber to build the old Union Baptist Church and was a man of great power in exhortation and prayer. He was puritanic in his everyday walk of life and practiced what he preached. His wife was a woman of great moral purity and was never known to utter a blasphemous word in her life." He was the first Judge of Election of N. Buffalo Twp. in 1847 (History of Armstrong Co., by J. H. Beers, Vol. 1, p. 292). Prior to his death he gave farms to his sons: Samuel D., William C., Robert, David, James, and Wallace. In his Will, dated 2/20/1877, farms were given to following additional children: "to my daughter, Mary Jane, intermarried with James Walker Claypool, and her children, I give and bequeath forty-two acres of land including the buildings where we live. . . to my daughter Isabella, intermarried with David Jefferson Claypool, and her children, I give and bequeath forty-two acres including where they live . . . to my son Joseph's wife, Isabella, and their children, I give and bequeath forty-two acres of land whereon Joseph and his wife now live. . . to my son Hezekiah's children, I bequeath fifty-four acres where they live . . . beloved wife Isabella all personal property. . . wife and sister, Hannah, to have the use of the house in which they live and one-third of the produce raised on three of the farms. . . son, William, appointed administrator. . ." Witnessed by sons: William & David Claypool. Duly probated 5/13/1878, Will Book 3, p. 248, Armstrong Co., Pa.

As a teacher in the public schools he was a success. . .In 1871 James E. Claypoole was employed as a clerk by the firm of Graff and Firth in the general merchandise department and his business career which was to be crowned with such eminent success was started. . .The retiring of Mr. Firth from the active management of the woolen mill made necessary the selection of one capable of making this branch a success and Mr. Claypoole was put in charge. . .On May 2, 1899 the entire plant was destroyed by fire. A new woolen mill. . .was built Mr. Claypoole having an equal interest with his partners. . .Ambition was born in him. . .Loyalty was his most prominent virtue. . ." His Will dated 4/14/1914 (Estate 8678) bequeathed $3,000 to the Worthington, Pa. Married 9/13/1855, Sarah Emily Davis, born 1/27/1836 in Armstrong Co., Pa., dau. of John P. & Isabella (Campbell) Davis. She died at the home of her daughter, Pauline, Adrian, Pa. By the time she was nine, she was in 8th grade and noted for her great knowledge of the Bible. "Samuel Claypool . . . worked on his father's farm in his youth. . ." He lived in half of his father's log house and his first seven children were born there. In the spring of 1871 his father gave him a farm in Burrell Twp., Armstrong Co., Pa. About May 1, 1881, he removed to Fergus Falls, Minnesota with all his family except Evaline, Pauline and Emma. Dave Chapman, a cousin of "Buffalo Bill" hauled their "flittin" up to the woods. About January 1, 1884, they returned to Armstrong Co., Pa. In 1895 they moved to New Castle, Pa. and were members of the East Street Baptist Church. In 1899 five members of this family died from typhoid fever. The COURANT-GARDIAN carried the following headlines: "A Very Sad Household in the Southern Part of the City--A Sister (Mary) Dead and Two Brothers Very Low With Typhoid Fever; Last Rites Over the Remains of Homer Claypool to be Held; The Claypool Family Again Bereaved For The Third Time in Two Weeks (John E. About 1871 his father bought him a farm near Crooked Creek, Armstrong Co., Pa. joining that of his brother, Samuel. "With a number of business men from Armstrong Co., Pa. the Pamona Grange was organized. They would buy grain from farmers and store it in large buildings. . . In this enterprise he lost a considerable amount of money but rather than suffer defeat, he bought a covered wagon and established a produce route among the farmers. . . In 1876 during the oil excitement in Northern Pa., he sold his farm . . . and moved to McKean Co. near Bradford, Pa. He purchased a large dwelling house for the purpose of keeping boarders. . . known as the 'Claypoole House' and patronized by 20 employees of the oil company. . ." About 1880 "he followed the lure of the West and moved his family to Minnesota. . ." (Sent by granddaughter of Melvina Belle (Claypoole) Croyle to Emma (Claypool) Truby, Apolla, Pa.) Three brothers, Edward, Norton, and James Claypole, sons of Sir John & Mary (Angell) Claypole, came to America from England in the Seventeenth Century. Volume I lists their ancestors in England and the descendants of John, Nathaniel, Priscilla, and Joseph Claypoole, all children of James & Helena (Mercer) Claypoole.

"JAMES, second son of the immigrant James, resided at New Castle, Del. as early as the year 1693. The name of his wife is not certain, but he had at least two children: Elizabeth and JAMES, who settled in Rockingham Co., Va. in the eighteenth century and later removed to Hardy Co., Va. By his wife Jane, he had at least six sons: James, John, Jesse, Joseph, William, and George. Of these, James settled in Ohio and was the father of 13 children; John remained at Lost River in Hardy County, Virginia and is said to have had 22 children. Jesse settled in Bourbon County, Kentucky; Joseph left nine children in Greenbrier County, Virginia; William was killed by Indians on Lost River and may have left issue, but his records are not complete; while George left issue on Lost River by his wife Catherine Miller, of at least one son named Levi, who made his home in Ohio." (Media Research Bureau, Washington, D. C.)

This volume gives the descendants of James Claypool, III (some say son of James, grandson of Norton), born 2/14/1701 in Delaware; died 10/7/1789 in Virginia & his wife, Jane (Byrd?), born 1701; died 10/9/1788 in Va. Descendants of Norton Claypool, mainly those of his son, Jeremiah, are also listed. The Appendix gives Church, birth, marriage, and death records for all branches of the family, mostly descendants of James & Lucretia (Garwood) Claypoole, who settled in Armstrong Co., Pa. (then Cumberland Co., Pa.) before 1766 but was chased away by Indians. His father, James Claypoole, Sheriff of Philadelphia during the Revolution, was also a cousin of James Claypool, born 1701 of Virginia.

The Claypooles traveled together as they settled our frontiers--brothers, sisters, cousins--and there was considerable intermarriage among the branches. Elizabeth Claypoole (Jeremiah-Norton) who married (1) Thomas Conwell; (2) Lewis Davidson lived in Fayette Co., Pa. about midway between Hardy Co., Va. & Armstrong Co., Pa. At one time Virginia claimed this territory.

Since there is still some controversy as to the ancestry of James, born 1701, he will be listed as James Claypool (James-James or Norton) along with his descendants in this volume. He is listed as a grandson of James by the Media Research Bureau; Rebecca Graff, THE CLAYPOOLE FAMILY OF PHILADELPHIA; THE HOWARD LINEAGE; Atty. William C. Hudson, past-president of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research; the late Atty. John Claypool of Indianapolis, Ind.; and Arthur M. Hurst. On April 1, 1971, Mr. Hurst wrote:

"Dear Mrs. Bracken:

I have been studying the Claypool Records and I think now that you have been correct and that I was wrong all the time, about James Claypool who was born 1701.

James Claypool born 1701, must certainly have been a descendant of James the immigrant. . ." Sincerely, Arthur M. Hurst

However, the late Edward Claypool listed him as a grandson of Norton. Most of the people claiming ancestry from Norton received their information from him. In his research, Edward Claypool of descendants of James Claypoole, born 1701, he found "35 families identified and connected with the Philadelphia branch. . ." (Letter to Mrs. America Haynes, Portland, Ind.) Others who claim ancestry from Norton including Blanche Claypool, Salt Lake City, Utah, are descendants of Jeremiah Claypool, son of Joseph Claypool of Greenbrier Co., Va. Some, including Mr. Arthur Hurst, now believe that this Joseph was not a son of James, born 1701, as his son "Joseph died at a very early day, leaving a wife and one child" as recorded by Levi Claypool (George-James, b. 1701).

JAMES CLAYPOOL (James-James or Norton) was born 2/14/1701 in Delaware; died 10/7/1789 in Virginia, son of James & Mary (Cann) Claypool, grandson of James & Helena (Mercer) Claypoole or son of James & Elizabeth (Pawling) Claypool, grandson of Norton & Rachel () Claypoole. A descendant, John W. Claypool (1858-1924) lists him as a great-grandson of James, brother of Lord John, grandson of James, son of James, the Pilot. Married Jane, born 1701; died 10/9/1788. Both buried in Miller Cemetery on Route 58 south of Lost City, W. Va., tombstone still standing. On 2/4/1729 James Claypoole, weaver, deeded property to Jos. Hoggard (Hazzard)--Sussex Deed Bk. F. 6, p. 350. In 1741 Joseph Wyatt of Maryland deeded 200 acres on Bracey's Branch to James Claypoole of Sussex, weaver. (Sussex Deed Bk. G. 7, p. 351) In 1742 Peter Dale deeds property to James Claypoole, weaver. (Sussex Deed Bk. H. 8, p. 23) In his will, 1789, James Claypoole of Hardy Co., Va. gives: "To my eldest son James, my loom and all her (sic) gear." A descendant, Arthur M. Hurst, Chicago, Illinois writes: "About 1745 to 1750 James and several of his cousins, all children of Jeremiah Claypool: Sarah Claypool, wife of Jacob Gum; Joseph Claypool; Elizabeth Claypool who married (1) Thomas Conwell; (2) Louis Davidson; and the family of George Claypool, all sold their land in Sussex Co., Del. and went west. Elizabeth (Claypool) Davidson with her husband went as far as Fayette Co., Pa. and settled there. The others probably went to Allegheny Co., Pa. as some names mentioned there in early records are the same as those in the Claypool group. 'In the year 1732, Joist Hite and several others removed from Pennsylvania, cutting their way from York. The most authentic information handed down leads us to believe that this party of immigrants was the first to settle west of the Blue Ridge' (Aler's History of Martinsburg & Berkley Co., W. Va.) Then between 1745 and 1753 the Claypools went to Brocks Gap in Augusta Co., Va. . . . They left there in 1755. Court records of Augusta Co. for 1755 Delinquents shows 'James Cleapole gone away; James Cleapole, Jr., Gone away.' They moved from Augusta Co. to Lost River in Hampshire (now Hardy Co. Va. and located about forty-five or fifty miles from the town of Winchester. In the vicinity, cut off by mountains from the outside world, with only one poor road entering from the north, and little contact with any other people, the Claypools and their few neighbors built a new community." Joseph Claypoole, Jr. & Joshua Claypoole, sons of Joseph Claypoole (James), settled near their cousin, James, III (b.1701). Records of Augusta Co., Va. 1745-1800 show the following:

James Claypool, 10/23/1749, 200 acres on Cedar Branch--Vol. II, p. 377
 James Claypole, 1749-50, 110 acres joining Marks. --Vol. II, p. 378
 James Claypole & Wm. Claypole signed petition 5/20/1752.--Vol. I, p.50

1. WILLIAM CLAYPOOL (James-James-James or Norton) was probably born in Delaware; killed by Indians on Lost River, Virginia 3/ /1758. Married 5/20/1750, Martha (or Mary) Dunbar, who married (2) Jackson.

Child:

10. Nancy Jean (Jane) m. John McNeese (or McKee)

I, John Claypool of Hardy County and State of Virginia, do hereby make my last will and Testament in manner and form following--that is to say it is my will and desire that my Executors hereafter named immediately after my death to take charge of my estate both real and personal and make sale thereof to the best advantage in the following manner, viz:

The landed part of my estate to be sold as soon as convenient, either by public or private contract at the discretion of my Executors and conveyance made for the same--the movable part of my estate to be sold at public sale, except one feather bed and furniture I give to my wife Nancy Claypool, her and her heirs forever.

I further order and it is my will that my Executors take One Thousand dollars of the money arising from the sale of my estate and put it out to interest for the support of my wife, Nancy Claypool, as I think the interest of that sum is sufficient to support and maintain in a decent manner during her natural life--and the residue of all my estate, or the money arising from the sale of said estate, both real and personal, after all my just debts and funeral charges are paid--I allow and it is my will that it be equally divided amongst all my sons and daughters to wit: James Claypool, John Claypool, David Claypool, Stephen Claypool, Mary Metcalfe, Elenor Slater, Jane Osburn, Margaret Osburn, Sarah Slater, Rachel Baker, Hannah Grey, Elizabeth Bradigum, Geo. Claypool, Leah Chrisman, William Claypool, Aaron Claypool, Philip Claypool, Nancy Sinnate and Priscilla Chilcott, them and their heirs forever--after the death of my wife, Nancy Claypool, it is my will and desire that the Thousand Dollars that I ordered to be put out on interest for her support shall likewise be equally divided amongst all my children and their heirs forever.

It is my will and I so order that one half of the legacies left my daughter, Sarah Slater, above mentioned shall be given to my grandson, James, son of Sarah Slater, but I leave to the discretion of my Executors, either to pay to said James or his mother--Also I give my grand daughter, Mahala, Daughter of the above Elizabeth Bradigum, to her heirs forever.

When sale is made of my estate as above directed and money collected it is my will that it be distributed amongst my heirs above named allowing that which shall be charged against sundry of them on my Books, which I have filed for that purpose shall be considered as so much paid them towards their several legacies and if I have paid any of my children more than their proportion when the final dividend comes to be made, in that case it is my will and I do order that they shall pay back their proportions, for my object is to make all my children equal, except Sarah and Elizabeth, as I have ordered part of what is coming to them to be paid to their first children in the manner before stated.

And lastly I do hereby constitute and appoint my son Philip Claypool and son-in-law, Isaac Christmen, Executors of this my last will and testament, and I do by these presents utterly disallow, revoke, and disannul all former and other wills, testaments or bequests by me at any time made, ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this tenth day of April in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Fourteen.

His X Mark

John Claypool (Seal)

He purchased 425 acres of farm land from the government 2½ miles south east of Thayer wher he lived until the time of his death. He was a carpenter and a very fine workman. "His home and all the buildings on the farm were made by him of native walnut lumber, most all of which grew on his own timberland. One of the happy memories of early childhood is visiting the farm and playing in the huge hay barn where the great hand hewn beams, a foot or more square, were fastened together with large wood pegs, also made by hand."--Mrs. Rose Babbitt Bartholomew, a granddaughter, Decatur, Georgia; Winifred Hatch, Enid, Oklahoma to Arthur Hurst.

I was cared for by a Black Mamma at my uncles on my mothers side." Thomas Elmore Lucy says in an article in "The Lookout" Feb. 9, 1944 about the Christian Old Peoples Home, St. Louis, Mo.: "I pause to salute the dean of the group--a Confederate soldier who chuckles as he says: 'I enlisted in the Army as a private; they soon make a corporal of me; now they decorate me as a general and make me commander-in-chief of the U.C.V.' He is none other than Gen. John M. Claypool, minister, speaker at many civic and Patriotic functions. . .A month ago he celebrated his 97th birthday by preaching a sermon. . .General Claypool, I asked, to what do you attribute your great age and the cheerful spirit that carries you right along through the years? With a chuckle. . .he replied: 'To sane and regular living habits, a cheerful outlook on life, and the promise of the Master to Honor your father and mother that the days may be long in the land. . .and try to live so as to be ready to cross over when the great call comes.'" A notice of his death appeared in the Missouri Historical Review: "John Milton Claypool: Born in Kentucky 7/21/1846; died in St. Louis, Mo. 6/11/1945. . . was twice national Commander in Chief of the United Confederate Veterans.

 Children:
 Everett Francis b. abt. 1898
938. JOHN WILSON CLAYPOOL (Solomon-Wilson-Abraham-James-James-James-James or Norton) claimed ancestry from James Claypool, the immigrant of 1683, in correspondence with Nelson Olin Claypool of Armstrong Co., Pa. He was born 10/19/1858; died 12/8/1924. He was an attorney at Indianapolis, Indiana. He lists an extra generation, JAMES CLAYPOOLE, THE PILOT, in his ancestry:
 James Claypoole, (Immigrant) Brother of Lord John Claypoole
 James Claypoole, Jr.
 JAMES CLAYPOOLE, THE PILOT
 James Claypoole, born 1701; died 1789 - Settled in Old Virginia
 James Claypool, born 1730; died 1811
 Abraham Claypool, born 1762; died 1845
 Wilson Claypool, born 1798; died 1876
 Solomon Claypool, born 1829; died 1898
 John W. Claypool, born 1858
- Note: James Claypoole, the immigrant, willed "To my son James all my Vessells upon River, Pinnace Boats and Canous & and likewise all my History Books and mathematical books of surveigh and navigation, etc." so his son or grandson could well be qualified for the title, "JAMES THE PILOT." If John Claypool is correct in including this extra generation, then James, born 1701 would have to be a grandson of James, Jr. (James) rather than James (Norton) as Norton's son, James (b. 1677) would not be old enough to be the grandfather of James, born 1701. (Evelyn Bracken, Indiana, Pa.)
939. HANNAH M. CLAYPOOL (Solomon-Wilson-Abraham-James-James-James-James or Norton) was born 10/31/1862; died 11/4/1936. Married 4/19/1887, Thomas H. Watson. Lived in Chicago, Illinois. (Arthur Hurst, Chicago, Ill.)

Dear Dr. Willoughby:

Regarding the tax receipts which you enclosed in your recent letter, we were able to identify one of them as follows:

In 1781 and 1782 Andrew Donnally was high sheriff of Greenbrier County.

In "Land Tax, Hampshire County, 1786-1800", we find John Claypool listed in 1797. In "Land Tax, Hardy County, 1786-1800", we find John Claypool listed in 1787, 1788, 1789, 1790, 1792, 1793, 1798, 1799 and 1800.

In "Hardy County Wills and Inventories, 1786-1899", we find:

Testator	Date	Place of Residence
Claypool, John	9-9-1823	Hardy Co., Va.

Devises:

Nancy, wife	Margaret Osborn, Dt.

THE ALLEGHENY VALLEY

"A valley rich by nature blest;
 Green walled by hills on either side
 By verdant trees in splendor dres't,
 Where peace and happiness abide.

"Our pioneers were awed with wonder;
 To see such pleasant woodland vales
 Richly endowed with natures plunder,
 Were all the valleys hills and dales.

"With pent up treasures underlying;
 Each rugged hill and sunny slope
 A goodly promise not believing,
 Gave to our early settlers hope.

"The pluck and courage of our sires;
 This valley bounteous did reclaim
 In humble dwellings built their fires;
 The cornerstone of greater fame.

"They felled the mighty forests, too;
 And tamed the fertile soil.
 They builded better than they knew;
 By faith and earnest toil."

--Written by Nelson Olin Claypool (1870-1952)
 (This poem and the ones which follow were sent by his son, Homer Paul Claypool in 1968)

Note: THE ALLEGHENY VALLEY TELEPHONE DIRECTORY (1970) lists 101 Claypool(e)s.
 This area includes Elderton, Ford City, Kittanning, and Worthington, Pa., all in Armstrong Co. The Allegheny River flows through this territory.

EULOGY TO THE BOWSERS
Early Settlers of Armstrong Co., Pa.
Dedicated to Benjamin Bowser

"In local history they hold an honored place,
Which coming centuries shall ne'er deface;
They dwell in country, city, village, town,
And some have reached to honor and renown.

"They till the soil on many a spacious farm,
Far from the cities struggles and alarm;
To feed our nation, give a helping hand
Good men and true, the finest in the land.

"While others seek the cities busy mart,
And in affairs of business take a part.
In high professions, they are not unknown;
And claim some men of genius as their own.

"They settled first these hills, as pioneers
And knew the hardships and the fears.
They builded homes, reclaimed the fertile soil
And lived by honesty and sturdy toil.

"Then let us honor, too, their helpful wives
Who live in virtue, honest useful lives;
They are the choicest that our land afford--
Pure, undefiled in every deed and word.

"These valued qualities and sterling worth
Are theirs by heritage and right of birth.
But half their worth my feeble pen has told--
Souls like as pearls, and hearts of finest gold.

"I greet this honored family with acclaim
And dedicate this poem to their name.
Where e'er they dwell, be it afar or near,
I give to all, a greeting of good cheer.

--Nelson Olin Claypool, Oct. 3, 1911

"If you can't get a Claypool, a Bowser will do" is an old saying in Armstrong Co., Pa. Over 260 of them are listed in the Allegheny Valley Telephone Directory (1970) and most of them have Claypoole ancestry or are related to them. Three grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, 14 great-great-grandchildren, and 17 great-great-great-grandchildren of James Claypool, the first white settler at Kittanning, Armstrong Co., Pa. married Bowsers.

"Reminiscence." ④

My great-great grandfather James Claypool, was the first white man to settle in Bettaming, Pa. with his family and cattle he came over the mountains from York, Pa. and built his house at what is now the corner of Vine and Water streets, in 1791. The Indians, who had a village near by, soon assumed such a hostile attitude that he sent his cattle in care of his sons overland to Turtle Creek, where other pioneers from the east had preceded him, and being warned by a friendly Indian that his house was to be burned and he and his family massacred, he took his family and goods by night and floated down the Allegheny to Fort Duquesne.

⑤

My great grandfather, Ezekiah, drifted back to what is now north Buffalo Township, Armstrong County, about the year 1798, having in the mean time married a woman by the name of McLane; he purchased six hundred acres of land and erected a log house in the primitive wilderness. once while watching a "Deer lick" by night he was stalked by a hungry Panther.

-294-

being on the alert, he discovered it in the act of springing, and with a well directed shot from his rifle ended its career. His family consisted of himself his wife and two children James H. and Hannah.

⑥

James H. Claypool, my grandfather, fell heir to the vast estate of his father, and passed his entire life on the farm on which he was born. He donated land for and furnished lumber to build the old Union Baptist Church and was a man of great power in exhortation and prayer, he was puritanic in his very day walk of life and "practiced what he preached." His wife was a woman of great moral purity and was never known to utter a blasphemous word in her life.

⑦

Samuel D. Claypool, Born 1829 married Sarah E. Davis, Parents of a large family, worked on his father's farm in youth & inherited fifty acres of good land, for several years he followed boating oil on the Allegheny, a man of many sterling qualities, but deficient in business ability. THE BEAUTIFUL CITY

"I have journeyed so long in the darkness and cold;
Far away from the light of His eyes,
But His beauty I see when the heavens unfold;
And His splendor pervades all the skies.

"In that beautiful city, my dear ones are found;
Who, with harps sing His praise evermore,
All His dear little children are gathered around--
And they dwell on that beautiful shore.

"I have lived in the faith of my fathers before;
And His cross I have never laid down,
Now my trials and sorrows forever are o'er;
And I exchange my cross for a crown."
